The Musicale_A Brilliant Reception_"Not the Fuesday"... Personals and

For the benefit of those who did not see the notice in last Sunday's issue (which was certainly easily visible to the naked eye), advantage is taken of this | Herod! opportunity to state that it was "not the opportunity to state that it was "not the Tuesday" who gave the Easter-Monday german, and that the gentlemen who were in charge of that enjoyable affair have sent an explanation to The Times as regarded their attitude toward the Yale Glee Club, which entirely relieves them from any charge of lack of hospitality or couglesy to strangers. Now that this momentous question is settled, we will take our music as rendered on that delightful last Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Benjamin Nash, 809 west pranklin.

delightful last Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Benjamin Nash, 509 west Franklin.

The affair may be said, in a sense, to have been given both to and by that brilliantly sweet singer, Mrs. Charles H. Senff, of New York, in whose honor the hostess had thrown open her handsome parlors, and whose exquisite contraito voice made her the centre of attraction and of enjoyment during the entire evening. Mrs. Senff's beauty is distinctly southern in type; her coloring is dark and rich; her figure full and finely moulded. On this occasion she wore an exquisite Worth gown of that shade of pink which is blossom-like in delicacy, and her jewels were superb. All the selections which she rendered were greatly enjoyed; but the gem of the programme was unquestionably Francis Korbey's "I Wonder When He'll Come Again."

The parlors were lavishly decorated with Madame Testout and American Beauty roses and palms, from which the beautifully-gowned figure of the singer stood out in radiant relief.

The table decorations were pink, and its appointments rich and beautiful. The punch was served by Misses Marie Saunders and Neille Boykin.

Those enjoying at once the hospitality of the hostess, and Mrs. Senff's music were: Governor and Mrs. O'Ferrall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rutherfoord, Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Junius Morris, Miss Francis Ross, Mr. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bolling, Miss Dangerfield, Mrs. N. M. Wilson, Mrs. E. D. Mayo, Mrs. E. T. D. Myers, Mrs. McVeigh, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bolling, Miss Dangerfield, Mrs. N. M. Wilson, Mrs. C. C. McPhall, Miss Lilian Yarbrough, Mr. and Mrs. Barbour Thompson, Miss Emma Barksdale, Mr. and Mrs. Starke, Misses Julia Morton, Mary Hayes, Nellie Boykin, Marie Saunders, Anna Boykin, Elizabeth Macgill Eridges, Eugenla Tennant, Adele Archer, Janie Blair, Lelia Grey, Elien Mercer Cooke, Bessie Elizabeth Moore, Kate Montague, Annie Rose Walker, Jualith Carringt Cooke, Bessie Elizabeth Moore, Kate Montague, Annie Rose Walker, Judith Carrington, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, Mesars. Charles Antrim, Arthur Wiley, Cham Pleasants, Freston Noland, Akers, John Walker, George Walker, Stern, T. C. Williams, Mathews, Mayo, John Lyons, Holladay, Dr. Irving, Moncure, George Gibson, McCabe, Elanchard, Rosewell Page, Williams, Horace Hawes, Willie Grant, and Ned Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Malvern Courtney Patterson are stopping at Mrs. Duval's, 301 east

u are stopping at Mrs. Duval's, 301 east

Miss Herbert, of Alexandria, is the guest of Mrs. John Addison, Park avenue.

Miss Mansfield, of New Haven, is the guest of Mrs. Woodbridge.

An exchange announced the title of a recent lecture by Mrs. Helen Gardner, as "Woman as an Annex," and another exchange hastened to remark briefly that as "An annex" woman has been considered a success for several centuries, and that instances have been known where the "annex" seemed to be the main office.

this is the latest from the American d abroad. This particular maiden was om New York, and an Englishman was taking her into dinner. Said the En-glishman: "I sometimes wonder what try." Said the maiden: "O, we eat what we can and can what we can't. See?" From England and the question as to what becomes of all our peaches, to Richmond, and an account of the brilliant Richmond, and an account of the brilliant reception given on Thursday evening by Mrs, James Pleasants in honor of Mrs. Malvern Courtney Patterson, is not a strictly logical step, but who expects logic in a society letter, and who gets it even if he has the audhcity and guileless innocence to expect it. The feasts of reason and flows of soul, as well as (dare we say it?) the flights of fancy are to be found in what is called the editorial department. See Page 4. And now let us go back to the reception and enjoy ourselves in our own delightfully illogical way.

Mrs. James Pleasants and Mrs. Patterson were assisted in the reception of the throng of callers by Mrs. John A. Coke, Mrs. L. L. Lewis, Mrs. R. A. Patterson, Mrs. F. A. Steger, Mrs. James Dooley, Mrs. Edward Mayo, Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. Annie Walker, Mrs. A. W. Patterson, Mrs. George Ben Johnston, Mrs. Carring-

The coffee and chocolate table was presided over by Miss Belle Perkins, and Mrs. Edward Buck served punch.

and Mrs. Edward Buck served punch.

A very large number of the most attractive girls in the city aided the hostess in the extension of hospitality, among them Misses Neille Boykin, Lou Atkins, Julia Morris, Neilie Neale, Mary Carrington, Irene Pleasants, Susie Morris, Mary Lewis, Alice Overby, Georgia Blankenship, Sallie Waiker, Lilian Yarbrough, Janet Morris, and Annie McGuire.

The beautiful pariors were radiant with

Morris, and Annie McGuire.

The beautiful parlors were radiant with color and light. The floral decorations were principally of Madame Testout and American beauty roses, carnations, superb azaleas, ferns and palms.

Mr. and Mrs. Pleasants understand with rare perfection how to throw a typical "Old Virginia" informality and geniality into their entertainments and one man probably expressed the sentiments of all the guests, when, on his way down town

"Old Virginla" informality and geniality into their entertainments and one man probably expressed the sentiments of all the guests, when, on his way down town on Friday morning, he informed his fidus achates, soul's comrade, chum, etc., that the affair was a "Jim hummer." (This is a synonym for "rip sneezer" and translated signifies, according to the latest New York authorities "a very, very, very nice thing!").

Among several hundred callers were Mrs. B. M. Abbott, Mrs. Beverly Crump, Mrs. Beverly Munford, Mrs. Dr. Edward Robinson, Miss Alice Delancey Archer, Mrs. G. A. Davenport, Mrs. John Howard, Misses Annis and Mary Howard, Misses Annis and Mary Howard, Misses Annis and Mary Howard, Mrs. Charles Stokes Mrs. Thomas Boulware, Mrs. John Hunter, Mrs. Jackson Goy, Mrs. Gray Skipwith, Mrs. Lightfoot Wormeley, Mrs. John N. Nolting, Mrs. Warner Moore, Misses Mary and Elizabeth Moore, Mrs. John N. Nolting, Mrs. Warner Moore, Misses Mary and Elizabeth Moore, Mrs. John Enders, Miss Ella Johnson Kerr, Mrs. Thomas M. Rutherfoord, Mrs. Alfred Gray, Mrs. Thomas Bolling, Mrs. Alexander Tunstall, Misses Blankenship, Misses Judith, Emma and Bessie Carrington, Mrs. J. Allison Hodges, Miss Starke, Mrs. E. D. Hotchkiss, Mrs. Josiah Ryland, Miss Carrie Coleman, Mrs. James Hayes, Misse Mary Stuart and Elizabeth Travers Hayes, Mrs. Dr. Thomas, Mrs. Jackson Guy, Mrs. Dr. Thomas, Mrs. Jackson Guy, Mrs. Dr. Thomas, Mrs. G. C. Bridges, Mrs. John D. Lottier, Mrs. Middred Carrington, Mrs. William M. Withers, Mrs. Charles Elavenport, Mrs. Arthur Lefroy, Mrs. Charles Elavenport, Mrs. Arthur Lefroy, Mrs. Charles Elvhitiock, Mrs. Fronie Pegram, Mrs. Lewis Wheat, Miss Fronie Pegram, Mrs. Junius Morris, Mrs. Isalah White, Mrs. Junius Morris, Mrs. Isalah White, Mrs. Junius Morris, Mrs. Isalah White, Mrs. J. A. White, Miss Lala Powers, Mrs. Staples; Messrs, Walker, Townes, Eddie Willis, M. M. Gilliam, John L. Williams, Dr. Palmer, Robert Lancaster, Captain John A. Coke, Malvern C. Patterson, Beverly Munford, Judge Leake, Judge Lewis, Dr. Thoma

IN FASHIONABLE CIRCLES
John R. Price, Dr. R. A. Patterson, Dr. George James Dooley, John Howard, William Hill, Frank D. Steger, John A. Coke, Dr. Ross, William P. Palmer, Langbourne Williams, Robert Hanter, Fuller Patterson, A. W. Patterson, Colonel Morton Marye.

Marye.

The Fortnightly club will meet on the evening of the 20th, at the residence of Mrs. Thomas N. Carter.

On one occasion Lamb was invited to a party where the room was crowded with children. Their noise and tricks plagued him exceedingly, and at supper. When toasts were flying to and fro, he arose to propose the health of the "M-much ca-ca-caluminated g-g-good King Herod!"

Miss Nannie Forbes, of Fredericksburg, who has been spending the winter in Savannah, will, during this ensuing week, be the guest of Miss Ellen Mercer Cooke, be the guest of Miss Ellen Mercer Cooke, south Third street.

From among the poor peasant girls of Italy a poetess of the first rank has emerged. The fame of Ada Negri has spread all over the peninsula, and her songs, breathing a socialistic sympathy for the poor and distressed, are upon every one's lips. She is only twenty-three years old, and is supporting an aged mother by teaching at Milan.

On Friday afternoon the members of Miss Helen Stockdale's music class gave a most enjoyable musicale, which was attended by a large number of society people.

people.

Vocal selections were charmingly rendered by Misses Rosalle Scott, daughter of Attorney-General Scott, Bettie Booker, Digs.— Carter, Bessie Harrison.— Meade, and Stockdale and by Messrs, Brockenbrough and Pizzini, Mr. Laube gave a number of violea solos which were delightful, and which were enthusiastically received.

Among the throng in attendance were Misses Maysie Scott, Nina Randolph,

Among the throng in aftendance were Misses Maysie Scott. Nina Randolph, Julia Lee, Roberta Dabney Minor, Anne Minor, Mrs. John B. Lightfoot, Mrs. Judge Lamb, Lulie Young (Fredericksburg), Mary Rogers, Rachel and Ellen Mercer Cooke, Mrs. Christian, Mrs. Booker, Mrs. Dr. Wellford, Mrs. Spillman, Miss Page Booker; Messrs, Parker, Brockenbrough, Carter Scott, McKenney, Meade, Harrison, Stringfellow, Snow, and

The "Standard Union" accuses Mrs. Frank Leslie of being a philosopher. For, it remarks, "She says in reply to the question whether she would have sent Mr. Willie Wilde's second wife a present if she had heard of the marriage in time:

'I hardly think that would have been quite fair to Miss Lees, as I understand Mr. Wilde still continues to love me, or, at least, to imagine that he does."

Willie himself says in a London interview, that his mother, Lady Wilde, and Mrs. Leslie are in constant correspondence. Mrs. Leslie is romantic, too, as well as philosophic, for, with the Atlantic between them, and another wife also, she says: "Still Willie loves me."

a courtesy to a number of her friends.

Miss Anna Boykin.

One of the currently reported reasons for the breaking off of the Gould-Tyler engagement was an excess of youth on the man's side and an excess of age on the woman's. The detectives, it is said, got hold of the family Bible, and did other things which they ought not to have done, and so the spirited little Georgian, not faneying courtship after the latest approved Russian methods, cast her lover behind her, and resumed her role in "Gudgeons."

On Thursday Governor and Mrs. O'Fer-On Thursday Governor and Mrs. O'Ferrail gave a theatre party as a courtesy to their guest, Miss Beitle Clark. "Hamlet" was the play, with Creston Clark and Miss Ford in the leading roles. Those composing the party were Gov. and Mrs. O'Ferrail, and Misses Taliaferro, Clark, Knight, and Master O'Ferrail. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henning have engaged passage for Europe for June 1st. In the presence of a large and representative gathering of the wealth, beautand fashion of Baltimore society, Misa Marie Stirling, second daughter of Commander and Mrs. Yates Stirling, of this city, was married on April 7th, to Mr. mander and Mrs. Yates Stirling, of this city, was married on April 7th, to Mr. J. Lee Tailer, only son of one of New York's millionaires. The wedding took place at noon, at Brown Memorial Presbyterian church, Baltimore, and was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Malthie D. Babcock, pastor. The interest in Eastern society in the event is second only to that of the Gebhard-Morris wedding of a ecomes of all the peaches in your coun- that of the Gebhard-Morris wedding of a slightly above the medium height, with a superb figure and a profusion of golden hair. She entered the church leaning on hair. She entered the church leaning on the arm of her father and attended by her elder sister, Mies Helen Stirling, as maid of honor and May Handy, of Rienmond, as bridesmaid. The ushers preceding the party were Messrs, Harry and Yates Pennington, cousins of the bride; James B. Tailer, cousin of the groom, Morton J. Henry, of Philadelphia, Roman Baldwin and David Witherspoon, of New York. The wedding was after the English style, the groom and his best man, Mr. J. Clinton Spencer, of New York, his cousin, receiving the bride at the chancel. The bride was gowned in an elaborate costume of ivery white satin, en train, pompadour corsage and trimmed with deep point lace. Her ornaments were diamonds, and surmounting her forchead was a magnificient diamond crezent, the gift of the groom, the customary bridal veil, orange blossoms, etc. The maid of honor and the bridesmaid wore white silk, with waist and overskirt of ne-silk, with waist and overskirt of ac-cordeon platted mulle, trimmed with pale blue watered ribbon, and hats of white rough straw, trimmed with rose leaves and ribbon to match the waists of their dresses, and carried bunches of American Beauty roses.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast, of which only relatives and intimate friends partook.

Upon returning from the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Tailer will make their home in New York.

The meet of the Deep Run Hunt Club on Wednesday was, as announced in the Daily, one of the most enjoyable and largely attended of the season.

The tea given on Friday afternoon by a circle of King's Daughters, at No. 314 west Franklin street, was, as we must all be glad to know, a thorough nectal and financial success, its noble object commending it to the interest of many who responded promptly and warmly both with their money and presence.

The Dixie Glee Club was in attendance and contributed much to the enjoyment of guests, among whom were Misses Bessie Fauntleroy, Mary Stuart and Elizabeth Travers Hayes, Flossie Talbott, Elizabeth Moore, Georgie Blankenship, Mrs. Malvern Courtney Patterson, Mrs. Edward Mayo, Mrs. Edward Mayo, Mrs. Edward Mayo, Mrs. C. C. McPhaif, Misses Annie McGuire, Marian Harris, Ray Ellerson, Mrs. Cathin and Mrs. Taller.

C. C. McPhail, Misses Annie McGuire, Marian Harris, Ray Ellerson, Mrs. Catlin, and Mrs. Talley.

Masters Talley, Talbott, and Binford were the genial little guardians of the doors, and made all callers welcome.

The circle by whom the tea was given is composed of Misses Kate Harris, Madge Ould, Bessie Catlin, Mahlon Bagby, Susie Nolting, Mary Binford, and Carrie Talbott. Carrie Talbott.

SPEAKING TO GROWN PROPIE. Miss Tyson Gives Some Valuable Information to Christian Workers. Miss Tyson spoke at the Second Baptist church yesterday afternoon to a great number of Sunday-school teachers and Christian workers, and proved by the close attention given by her audience that she is just as successful with grown that she is just as successful with grown people as with children.

She first read a number of reasons why children should be Christians and be taught the word of God. She spoke of the various ways in which the children could be brought to the Savior, and mention as one of the means cottage meetings, which she had always found to be very delightful. She alluded to one such meeting which she held at the residence of a Christian lady on the previous evening, and which was attended by about thirty children, and which was equally enjoyed by old and young.

special gift to work among the young ones, but only earnestness and patience. She alluded to the fact that often a good deal of noise was made when old sinness were brought to Christ, while little was said in regard to young people becoming said in regard to young people becoming Christians.

Miss Tyson next spoke about the methods by which children might be taught the word of God. She briefly referred to the children's church in Scotland, which is a distinct and separate organization from the church of the grown people. In her experience the blackboard and object lesson had always proved to be most successful, although she said she could approve of any other method by which children could be brought to Christ. However, she admitted that the blackboard as well as object lessons could be abused, if the teacher endeavored to bring in too many foreign articles, thereby distracting the attention of his pupils from the teachings of the word of God. She advised the selection of one object lesson, and the one best at the time, with a relation between them easily understood by children.

As an illustration, Miss Tyson used on the blackboard the text, "Jesus as a Shepherd," with the following three Shepherd," with the following three

Jesus, the Good Shepherd, John x, 11. Jesus, the Great Shepherd, Hebrews, xiii, 20. Jesus, the Chief Shepherd, I Peter, v.

She further illustrated these thoughts by a cross on the blackboard, represent-ing the crucifixion; a tomb, representing the resurrection, and Jesus coming down from Heaven, representing his coming

By looking at these plain illustrations Miss Tyson said the lessons would im-press themselves better on the minds of the hearers. She thought it was well to hold boys and girls meetings separately, and then again it would be adviseoccasionally to have union meet-

Miss Tyson recommended a number Miss Tyson recommended a number of books to those who wish to teach children in the word of God and suggest-ed that hereafter union meetings be held every Sunday afternoon for children in churches of various sections of the city, remaining in each church a month at remaining in each church a month at the time. Those meetings might be conducted by one or more persons, and one of their objects should be to teach children how to pray and how to give testimony. She also suggested that classes be organized by workers from the various churches in this city.

In an after meeting held for the special purpose of giving instructions to Christian workers, Miss Tyson explained in detail how these classes should be conducted.

Snow-Church Company. The Snow Church Company's Weekly

The Snow Church Company's Weekly Review of Trade is as follows:
Features of trade for the week have had an upward tendency, a Isrge Bunber of merchants reporting a better trade, and collections a little better trans for some weeks past. Inquiries for merchandise have been more numerous, and as professed in the contraction of the contr chandise have been more numerous, and as spring advances, and an increase in the volume of trade is noticeable, dealers in country produce report a more active trade in their particular line during the week than for any preceeding week during the year, but a material falling off is noticed compared with the same period of 1850, though trade continues to advance, and prospects are more hopeful.

the week as compared with the corresponding week of 1803 shows this week $2.282,844.35 than the week of 1803, $2,556,618-

All our hearts with a pleading tear.

At hopes and entreatles you laugh and Then you soothe us with many a wile-Waywardest month of the wayward year

Tusband and Son

mqure Blood, Boils, Carbuncles, Rheumatism

Perfectly Cured by Hood's.

C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "My husband was afflicted with bolls for eight ears. He received several prescriptions from merent physicians but did not realize any benefitom the medicine. Last spring his neck was early covered with little boils which would ceak and run a little and then heal only for thers to take their place. They grew in numer and size until they turned to carbuncles. He gan to think they would kill him. Everything he doctors did seemed to le at last bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsapa Illa and when he had taken half of it his neck was well and he has had but one pimple since. "The remainder of the medicine I gave to my welve year old boy Willie Massey who had been afflicted with rheumatism from his infancy, so badly that I feared he would always be a ripple. He could not run and play like the therehildren. After he had taken a half hottle ( Hood's Sarsaparilla it seemed to do him so such good that we concluded to give it a fair

Aggravate the Disease.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

'Hood's Pills are hand made, and per a proportion and appearance. 25c. a box.

PART FIVE NOW READY.

BEYOND PERADVENTURE THE MOST IMPORTANT DISTRIBUTION EVER UNDERTAKEN BY A NEWSPAPER.

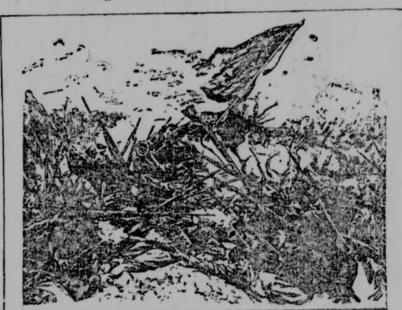

"To estimate its value the historical student has only to think how eagerly such a series by Napoleon and his Marshals and the Generals who opposed him would be seized on if they could be discovered to-day."- Evening Post, San Francisco.

THE FAMOUS

A Superb "People's Pictorial Edition."

Including al. the Most Important Features of the Original Four-Volume Work, with the Connecting Material Condensed for Popular Re ding.

The Story of the War!

As Told by the

Including Grant, Sherman, McClellan, Longstreet, Johnston, Hill, Howard, Beauregard, Buell, Kirby Smith, Law, McMahon, Fitz John Porter, Burnside, Rosecrans, Sickles, Cox, Lew Wallace, Imboden, Pope, Horace Porter, Early, Pleasanton, Fry, Couch, Hunt, Doubleday, Hood, Slocum, and many others.

The "Monitor" and the "Merrimac," the "Alabama" and the "Kearsarge," Farragut at Mobile Bay, etc.,

DESCRIBED BY PARTICIPANTS, UNION AND CONFEDERATE.

GREAT WRITERS

Tell the story of

Shiloh, Vicksburg, Chattanooga and the Wilderness

Will Cut Out Coupons and GET IT.

THREE TIMES' COUPONS.

Every Reader of Current Literature, Every Lover of America and Its History, Every Boy and Girl in the Land . . . . . COMPLETE IN TWENTY PARTS.